CVPOA-Chamber hold joint meeting

Feeling runs against Valley incorporation

The feeling was against incorporation of Carmel Valley at a public meeting Thursday at Tularcitos School, called by CV Property Owners Association, CV Chamber of Commerce and CV Commercial Property Owners Association.

Roy Sussman, Coro Foundation intern who recently completed a CV incorporation-feasibility study for the three organizations, was on hand to review his report and answer questions. It was an updating of a similar Coro report made about four years ago.

About half a dozen of the audience of about 40 people spoke out against incorporation, in spite of suggestions by Pres. Tom Bottaro of the Chamber, who presided, that the meeting was to review the report. Emil Hansen, president of CVPOA, assisted.

Col. Anders Larsen summed up the sentiments of the critics: "Incorporation would be like natural gas installation; it would cost more than you think."

He said that the answer to the problem of protection by the sheriff's department would be to go to the supervisors and demand a resident deputy. "We could have a policement on every corner and it still might not be enough," he commented, urging more family and school cooperation with such problems as marijuana.

Larsen said that Sheriff Jack Daveport has pointed out that crime has increased in Carmel Valley, but at about the same level as elsewhere in the county.

Sussman said that the $100,000 he had estimated for police protection is "minimum."

He said that his research indicated there is no clear-cut case for or against incorporation in Carmel Valley, unlike many other areas.

"The real advantage here," Sussman continued, "would be in planning and control of commercialization. Many communities have incorporated to resist commercialization and urbanization."

He added that "the Monterey County Planning Department is fairly sensitive to desires of Carmel Valley but this could change at any time."

He said that he had studied Woodside and Tiburon as incorporated communities with similarities to Carmel Valley.

Lou Gardner commented that the general conclusion of the meeting seemed to be that Carmel Valley is not ready for incorporation, but that the quality of the report shouldn't be criticized. He praised the quality of the work of Sussman, who assembled a tremendous amount of valuable material.

Gardner also reviewed an unsuccessful effort to launch a local parks and recreation district 12 years ago, which was voted down 5 to 1.

No signs of elusive bank robber

The FBI and detective's bureau of the sheriff's department are continuing investigation of the $3,556 robbery of the Crocker-Citizens branch bank at the mid-Valley shopping center Thursday.

An FBI spokesman Tuesday said, "The bank robber and his car could be still in Carmel Valley or he could have beaten the road blocks," erected 15 minutes after his escape.

He made his get-away, after dropping his hostage on Carmel Valley Rd. near Miramonte, in a white 1968 Plymouth Fury III two-door with a license plate with the letter "J." A hood ornament only visible from the driver's seat shows the number 318, representing 318 cubic inch displacement.

The alarm was sounded by Mrs. James Brock, wife of the pastor of St. Dunstan's Episcopal Church, who walked in during the robbery and walked right out, then ran to Steinmetz Pharmacy to phone the sheriff's dept.

Carmel police reported no fingerprints were on unexploded dynamite found in Carmel Builders Supply, which was sent to Sacramento for examination. Two dynamite explosions near the Carmel Senior Citizens Park and breaking a water main in Hatton Fields were presumed related to the robbery as diversions.

Searle speaks to CV Kiwanis

Dan Searle, candidate for county supervisor, in a talk to CV Kiwanis Club Tuesday accused Supervisor Willard Branson of "voting for all the big land owners."

He pointed out that he served as mayor of Monterey for four terms and is president of the Bing Crosby Youth Fund.

Since 1947, the Crosby Fund has grown from $9,000 to $360,000 last year, to benefit youth. Loans at 3% have been made to students attending 49 different colleges, he said, plus matching funds for a variety of local youth projects.

Searle declared that he is against "a four-lane speedway up Carmel Valley" and that engineering can be improved on road widening plans such as this.

Asked if he could offer a substitute for the property tax, he commented, "We'd all be down in Big Sur if property taxes were abolished."

Incorporation is a ways off

Incorporation isn't just around the corner for Carmel Valley, judging from the audience reaction at the public meeting Thursday to review the Coro Foundation incorporation feasibility study.

The critics were heard from; the supporters were silent. Intern Roy Sussman of the Coro Foundation, who made the study, was challenged at the meeting by cross-examiners from the floor to the extent that he felt compelled twice to point out that he was neutral.

The Chamber of Commerce, Carmel Valley Property Owners Association and CV Commercial Property Owners Association, which sponsored the updated study, have stood aside, reserving judgment. These groups are quite willing to let public opinion either puruse the matter further or drop it.

The 45¢ proposed tax rate which Sussman came up with for Upper Valley incorporation clobbered any thought of action. And although the 11¢ tax rate for the entire Valley if it would incorporate sounds less unpalatable, Lower Valleyites have even less interest in the thought.

With taxes anathema more than ever these days, the advantages of incorporation would have to be of real significance to stir interest sufficient for action. Willingness to pay the bill would take public concern aroused by such things as a more serious policing situation or perhaps major abuse of county zoning authority.

In the meantime, this second Coro Foundation report can be filed for the record. The sponsoring groups are to be thanked for the updated facts for local judgment.

SCHOOL NOTES

Middle School

In congratulating the Middle School students with straight A's or 4.00 averages, Principal Orville Rogers ommitted seventh grader James Kaller. Special congratulations are due Jimmy too! Also Holly Irwin's name was left off the high honors list for 8th graders. She made a 3.75 average, almost tops. Congratulations to Holly too!

The theme for the conference was "Careers Found in Reading" and featured speakers were Mildred Armstrong, Thunderbird Book Shop; Richard Baumhoff, newspaperman; Frank O'Neal, cartoonist ("Short Ribs"); Eula Long, author of The Carmel Dog. This Reading Conference under Jo Brazell's direction is becoming an annual Middle School tradition. If you missed it this year you should plan on catching it next year.

SPEAKERS

Middle School is constantly trying to make use of our valuable supply of resource people in the community. The following are just a few of those who have spoken to the students the past month or two:

Ed Thurkell, an attorney from Ft. Ord on Constitutional Law; Shell Ruskell on the Job Corps; Mrs. A.W. Brussell on newspapers and news media; Miss Doris Gates, children's author, on The Iliad and Odyssey; Mr. Montgomery Jones on copyrights and plagiarism; Mr. Somchai Suwanmanon, MPC student from Thailand who spoke about that country (our thanks to Mrs. George Bestor for bringing him to us); Mr. Tod Gittlan on Cuba (brought to us by Molly Williams); Miss Regina Duggan, English teacher sixth grade, showed slides and talked of her experiences in Moscow, other Russian cities and in Yugoslavia.

IN SHORT

Reagan appointed Mrs. Stanton to takes his wife's place on the Commission and during the June conference, in San Francisco, the Associated Council of the Arts, a reception is planned for delegates in the Hearst Court of the de Young Museum. With the California Commission hosts, the menu will feature bay shrimp on artichoke leaves, and California wines, cheese and salami.

BOTH THE LOWER and Upper Arroyo Seco Creek and the Lower Nacimiento River have been stocked with catchable-size trout recently, the Dept. of Fish and Game has announced.

MRS. MARCIA DE VOE, kindergarten teacher at River School, has traveled extensively throughout the world, photographing children, their homes, the foods they eat, games they play and work they do.

She uses this material in her classroom, bringing the peoples of the world into a real relationship with her youngsters.

An art display entitled, "A Teacher and her Students' Impressions of the World" may be seen this month in the Monterey Public Library. Mrs. De Voe's color photographs and drawings and paintings which her students have done make up the exhibit.

A REPORT has been turned into The Outlook of a pet cat dying after catching and eating a gopher that had been poisoned. With garden and gopher time upon us, each person should exercise extreme care in the use of poisons because of the danger to pets and children.

A TV SERIES on the American Indian is being prepared by Norman McPhee, past director-manager of the Monterey Peninsula Community Theatre. The series will be made for Utah State College on a Ford Foundation grant.

The Rhyming Philosopher

Because of a mythical, long-cherished view,
You live for the day you have nothing to do;
No job to enslave you, no time-clock to punch,
No fixed hour for breakfast or dinner or lunch.

Imagine how wonderful life will then be,
To sit back and know that at last you are free.
Announce to the world you're retired and fed up,
Ignore the alarm — you don't have to get up.

You don't have to hurry, there's no place to go,
It's always manana, like old Meixco.
Since time has no meaning you stay unemployed;
With nothing to do — there's no task to avoid.

But soon comes the day when this concept expires,
Which happens to any man when he retires.
You cut yourself off from the current event,
Which makes you feel useless, discarded and spent.

So here's the solution: There isn't much fun
In just doing nothing, no work to be done;
So find lots of work — there's joy in just viewing it —
The maximum pleasure is simply not doing it!

Branson tells CV Lions of tax demands

County Supervisor Willard Branson spoke before the Carmel Valley Lions Club last Wednesday night in the club's weekly meeting at Los Laureles Lodge.

Branson expressed great concern for the ever-increasing demand upon the tax dollar for welfare items. A supervisor is handcuffed regarding taxes, he said, but can do the umost to "hold the line." He estimates 41% of the county budget of $35 million goes into public assistance program.

If Carmel Valley ever decides to incorporate, Branson stated, he will help in every possible way. He added that increased police protection from the sheriff's department was a direct result of concern expressed by Carmel Valley residents.

When asked about the possibility of Monterey County some day having a park in Carmel Valley, Branson pointed out that now the emphasis is on the Toro Park area and Jack's Peak. In addition, in Monterey much has been done to renovate Veteran's Memorial Park (also called Deer Flat Park), which is some 38 acres in the heart of Monterey. According to Branson, it will be up to the new County Director of Parks, recently hired from Santa Clara County, to explore the park potential in Carmel Valley.

He stated that something more is needed than the 15 acres given by Del Mesa Carmel and Carmel Valley is in the county's future plans. Realistically though, the squeeze on the tax dollar does not leave a windfall for park development.

The Carmel Valley Lions also were introduced to Dan Searle. Searle and Branson will oppose each other, along with Angelo Di Girolamo in the county supervisor race for the Fifth District in the June 4 election.

CV Women's Club

New officers for the Carmel Valley Women's Club will be installed June 5 at a noon luncheon at the Carmel Valley Golf and Country Club. Mrs. Richard McKenzie and Mrs. Irving Ollason are co-chairmen of the afternoon. Installing officer will be Mrs. Larry Cummings.

Reservations may be made until June 3 by phoning Mrs. James Stewart 624-5845.

The Women's Club extends a sincere "thank you" to the community for their assistance in making the recent Book Sale such a success. The project netted over $100.

Fidelity Club

At the May meeting of the Fidelity Club the members enjoyed a South American Night with Dr. and Mrs. S.N. Trevino in charge of the program. The Trevinos who lived in Peru for five and a half years and traveled frequently to other countries of South America showed their collection of slides.

Recorded music from South America formed the background for dinner conversation. Table decorations followed the color scheme of red and white which are the colors of the Peruvian flag. Centering each table was some artifact from a South American country. Following the dinner and brief business meeting, Mrs. Trevino presented a fashion show featuring her collection of stoles and shawls from Colombia, Ecuador, and Bolivia. Models were Mrs. Emil Hansen, Mrs. Irving Ollason and Mrs. Cliff Bolgard.

The June meeting of the Fidelity Club will be the final meeting of the year. The program is announced as "Fun Night" with Mrs. John Hughes in charge of the program. Mr. and Mrs. Irving Ollason are in charge of the dinner arrangements. The meeting will be held June 6 at 6 p.m. in Fellowship Hall.

Chapel Guild

The Carmel Valley Community Chapel Guild elected officers at the recent dessert meeting. Mrs. Leon Amyx of San Benancio Canyon and Hitchcock Canyon will be installed with her new slate of officers on June 12 at Robles del Rio Lodge. Other officers include Mrs. S.N. Trevino, vice president; Mrs. Russell Stolfi, recording secretary; Mrs. Kirk Gayman, treasurer; and Miss Esther Trevino, corresponding secretary. The two directors are Mrs. Elbert Wade who will complete the remainder of Mrs. Amyx's term on the board and Mrs. Larry Busick who will serve for two years.

Mrs. William Wood is chairman of the installation luncheon to be held at 12:30. Reservations may be made through June 10 with Mrs. Kirk Gayman at 659-659-2461.

Speech and Hearing

Active and associate members of the Auxiliary of the Monterey Institute for Speech and Hearing held their annual luncheon meeting at the Outrigger Restaurant on May 16. Mrs. Gene England, membership chairman, welcomed new members. Mrs. Edward Weiner, of Carmel Valley, Auxiliary president, introduced Dr. Gene England, director, who spoke on the Institute's history and future plans.

He said that the Monterey Speech and Hearing Institute is the only center of its kind on the Pacific Coast and patients come from as far away as Idaho to take advantage of its services. The Institute opened in June of 1965 and has grown rapidly and to such an extent that plans are under way for future expansion.

At present the staff numbers 11 professional people; there are 45 active and 80 associate members in the Auxiliary. Over 1,000 patients are referred to the Institute each month.

The Institute is dedicated to speech, hearing and language problems from infancy throughout life. It also operates Children's House in Carmel Valley.

CLIMAX TO THE Arbor Day ceremonies came when 200 first and second graders were given Monterey pine seedlings to take home, plant and watch grow into trees. Tularcitos celebrates Arbor Day with new trees

Arbor Day, a tradition established by the Carmel Valley Garden Association to help beautify the grounds of Tularcitos Elementary School was held Friday with ceremonies in the Bob Robinson Outdoor Classroom.

Club president, Lynn Sims, introduced by principal George Gustafson, paid tribute to Luther Burbank whose March 7 birthday is California's official Arbor Day. However a later date due to uncertain weather conditions has alwasy been observed in the Valley. An impressive invocation was given for the children by Rev. James Brock.

Ten pistachio trees extending from the Oleander Garden Shop to the lower playground gate on Pilot and Del Fino were the planting project for 1968. The "pistachio grove" was dedicated with sincere appreciation to the four teachers leaving Tularcitos this year for their collective years of service devoted to the children of our community. Honored were Mrs. Elaine Sandberg, Mr. Robert Hoover, Mr. Gene Perrine and Mr. Robert Skiles (the latter two will be on sabbatical leave).

The grounds for the "grove" were mowed and tilled by Cecil MacGowan and the holes drilled by PG&E as one of their many community services.

Mr. and Mrs. Malloy Estill of Pacific Grove and Mrs. Lois Robinson, for whose husband the outdoor classroom was named, were among the honored guests.

FIR TREE PLANTED

Mrs. Estill who taught first grade at Tularcitos from 1946 until her retirement in 1966 was one of the donors of the white fir tree which was planted in front of the school library on Ford Road. Others contributing toward the tree were the CV Lions Club, the CV Lionettes, the CV Kiwanis, and the Tularcitos Parents Club.

Representatives from the Valley Camp Fire and Bluebird groups and the Valley Cub and Boy Scouts presented geranium plants for the large planters in the outdoor classroom.

Following orchestral selections under the direction of Gene Perrine, children of the first and second grades were presented with 200 Monterey pine seedlings from Salih Mehdy, the Arbor Day Committee chairman. Committee members attending were Mrs. Charlotte Kelley and Mrs. Mildred Hattan.

CV Community Bible School plans set for June 17–26

Final plans for a Community Summer Bible School were formulated Monday evening when teachers representing three Valley church, CV Community Chapel, St. Dunstan's Episcopal, and CV Baptist Church, met to receive their materials at Fellowship Hall. With their director, Mrs. Don Johnson, they viewed a film explaining the program entitled "It's Easy to Get Involved."

Dates for the vacation school will be June 17 through June 26. Classes will be held each week day in the Education Building on Village Drive from 9:30 until 11:45. Any child who will enroll in kindergarten this fall or who has completed any grade through 11 is welcome to attend.

Registration blanks are now available at the General Store, the Library, and CV Market. Parents are asked to return their registrations to Mrs. Kirk Gayman, registrar, by June 1. Children with other commitments such as swimming or Day Camp may enroll for only one week.

"Venture with God into the Unknown" ... Wonders of God's World and God's Word in lessons appropriate to each age level will be presented. Visual aids, films, and filmstrips to help make lessons more interesting and clear have been planned by the staff. There is no charge, but offerings amounting to a little over $1.50 per child would help toward the contribution to the missions which the children are studying, and the expenses.

Members of the staff this year include Director, Mrs. Don Johnson who is also in charge of worship service; Mrs. Cal Garner and Mrs. Jim Morrow, pre-school; Mrs. Gary Eldridge and Mrs. William Russell, kindergarten; Mrs. Richard Kern, first grade; Mrs. Lloyd Swanson and Mrs. Roy Kaminske, second grade; Mrs. Walter Mauzey, third grade; Mrs. Ernest Zanetta and Mrs. James Stewart, fourth grade; Mrs. George Greer, fifth grade; Mrs. Frank Bresk, sixth grade; Dr. and Mrs. James Short, junior high (7th and 8th grades); Mrs. Lucky Lawson, junior high handicraft, and Capt. Community Center Happenings

It's a busy place

A newcomer to the Valley made the comment at the Festival of the Grape that he thought the Center had been closed for the winter. It is hoped that with the advent of this weekly column such misconceptions will be clarified.

If you ever try to schedule a meeting at the Center it is wise to do so well in advance of the planned date since in actuality the Center is very well used.

Weekly meeting held there include: Boy Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, OK's, Bridge Club, AA, and CVYO. Groups that hold monthly or bi-monthly meetings there include the Center Board, CVPOA, Women's Club, and CVYO Adult Board to name a few. So you can see that the Center is used almost every afternoon and every evening in the week.

This means a lot of Valley residents use the facility and it is hoped that with the merger of the CVYO Adult Board and the Community Center Board more people will be there to help support the Center in carrying out its very important purpose as a Center for all Valley activities.

Speaking of the Festival of the Grape, it was a lot of fun and, much to the great delight of those who had worked so hard to make it a success, the threatened rain never did materialize. Be sure to make it next year if you missed in this year.

We hope to have a big turnout at the meeting this Thursday, May 23, at 8 p.m. for the final vote of the board merger. If you are not able to attend, please send your vote by mail. If the merger is approved by the membership of both boards, many projects that have been held off will begin and there will be more activity than ever at the Center.

A REALTOR and a BROKER
ARE THE SAME THING, AREN'T THEY!

Well, almost. Funk and Wagnall Standard Family Dictionary defines a broker as, "One who buys and sells for another on commission or who arranges for the negotiation of various types; especially a stockbroker." A Realtor is defined as "A realty broker who is affiliated in membership with the National Association of Real Estate Boards, which has for one of its objects, the protection of the public against dishonest practices, as of brokers; a protected trade name." Their policies are therefore basically the same; To assist you in buying and selling real estate, honestly, swiftly and efficiently.

When you list your real estate with a broker or a Realtor, request that your transaction be placed with the oldest and largest, independent home-owned title company in Monterey County.

Cookery Corner

Featuring the favorite recipes of local cooks.

We are glad to be able to pass along three recipes for hearty casseroles all with a South-of-the-Border accent, and great for serving a hoard of hungry teenagers or to take to the next church pot-luck.

These treasures are the contribution of MRS. ARTHUR HARBER who is known as Dici (pronounced Dickie) by friends and relations, except her father who still persists in calling her Gloriann.

Dici works two days a week as a clerical aid in the office of the County Building Inspector. Her only club affiliation is the CV Firemen's Ladies Auxiliary. Quite enough, when you consider that she has five attention-getters at home: Jeanette, 16-1/2; Alan, 15; Sandy, 13-1/2; Terri, 10-1/2; and Vicki, 8.

The Harbers are rounding out four years in Carmel Valley. Before that they lived in Carmel and before that, Marina and Redding. Mr. Harber is a journeyman metal worker, at present commuting to King City.

DICI'S ENCHILADA CASSEROLE

2 lbs. hamburger
1 medium onion, chopped
1 pkg. flour tortillas
2 cans enchilada sauce
black olives
6 hard cooked eggs, chopped
salsa or whole tomatoes
1 can refried beans or kidney beans (optional)
Cheddar or jack cheese, grated or chopped

Butter bottom of 13-1/2 by 8" pyrex dish or a large casserole. Line the bottom with tortillas (2 whole and a third cut into 8ths to fill the corners). Fry hamburger with onion until crumbly and spread half of mixture over tortillas.

Arrange the rest of the ingredients in layers, dividing them so that you have two layers of meat, 2 cheese, 1 salsa or tomatoes, 1 of sliced olives, and 1 of chopped egg. Spread enchilada sauce and tortillas between each layer, ending with cheese and olives and top with remaining sauce.

Cover with foil and bake at 350° for 1 hour. Serves 15.

CHORIZO CASSEROLE

1 lb. Chorizo (Mexican sausages or sausage meat
1 lb. hamburger
1 lb. package large macaroni
3 cans tomato sauce
1 teas. oregano
1/2 cup minced onion
6 oz. grated or chopped jack cheese.

Boil macaroni until tender. Fry meat with onion until brown and crumbly. Drain off fat. Spread layers of macaroni, meat and cheese and tomato sauce in a casserole dish...two layers of each, ending with cheese. Cover and bake at 350 for 1/2 hour. Serves 12.

STEAK CASSEROLE

2 lbs. round steak
1 T. chili powder
1 T. prepared mustard
1 can drained kidney beans
chili powder, paprika and black olives
1 medium chopped onion
1 large can whole tomatoes, juice and all
1/2 to 3/4 cup Uncle Ben's rice (uncooked)

Make a paste of the mustard and chili and spread over each side of steak. Cut into 1 inch cubes. Saute the onion in oil or butter and add a bouillon cube if you wish. Put half the meat in a large casserole and spread with half the onions, half the tomatoes and half the olives which have been sliced. Sprinkle all of the rice over this and top it with another layer of each ingredient. Spread the beans over all and sprinkle with a little chili powder and paprika. Bake at 325 for at least an hour. Serves eight.

Foreign food tasting party to benefit camp

"It's a Small World" is the most appropriate name for the fun filled afternoon of a foreign food-tasting dinner and entertainment being put on by the Social Action Committee and MAYTAG group of St. Dunstan's Episcopal Church on Sunday, May 26, from 4 to 6 p.m.

The dinner will be at the church on Robinson Canyon Rd. and will feature "The Dominant Four" singing, a musical group from a Seaside junior high school, and a children's choir from All Saints' Day School singing foreign songs.

The public is cordially invited to share in this gala event and tickets are $1.50 for adults, 75¢ for children and $5.00 for large families. Recipe books containing all the recipes from the dinner will be available for 50¢.

Proceeds for the dinner will go to "Camp Amigos," a day camp sponsored by St. Dunstan's Church, Carmel Valley, and All Saints' Church, Carmel.

The Camp will be held at the All Saints' Day School the last week of July and the first week of August, and will be for Carmel and Carmel Valley youngsters and an equal number of children of the third, fourth and fifth grade ages from Seaside.

Mr. Danny Alberts and his wife have been selected to direct the "Camp Amigos" and will have approximately 10 counselors (selected from a group of about 30 outstanding youngsters) from Carmel High, Monterey High and Seaside High School.

For ticket reservations for the dinner or questions concerning the camp, please contact Mrs. James Stewart (Social Action Chairman) 624, 5845, or the Rev. James Brock, 624-6646.

VEE AND TED FENLEY

There's never a dull moment in a pet store

Vee and Ted Fenley, owners of Suds and Scissors Pet Shop figure that getting into that business was inevitable. They loved and collected pets at home and it became a natural thing to continue this in a pet business.

The four Fenley children, Ted Jr., 15, David, 13, Bobby, 11, and Debbie, nine, were always bringing home a stray kitten or injured bird as well. Once Bobby won a baby duck at the fair. They named him Quack-Quack and he was raised under the TV where it was nice and warm until he was big enough to go outside. Gardeners take note: from that time on they didn't have a snail problem and they even loaned Quack-Quack for weekends to friends and neighbors whose yards were overrun with snails.

Besides the dogs and cats which have come and gone in the Fenley household, there was always something different. At one time they had a baby pig that had become lost on the freeway near Stockton. When the owner couldn't be located she became a family pet, named Esmerelda. She wore a collar and leash and followed the family around like a puppy. Esmerelda finally became so fat and sassy that they had to find a farmer with accommodations to fit her size, and he promised to use her only for motherhood. Vee said without that promise none of them would ever have been able to eat pork chops again.

Ted started in the animal business by trimming poodles. After nine years they went into business for themselves. Suds and Scissors was originally in Carmel itself, and almost exclusively dealt with the care and trimming of dogs.

In the Carmel Rancho shop, there is a wide variety of pets from mice to monkeys and all the accouterments that go with them.

Ted is planning a photo trip into the wilderness this summer to seek out the legendary Big Foot or Yetis, as it is sometimes called. Vee hopes he doesn't capture it... and add it to the stock.

During the nine years they have been in business for themselves, there have been some hectic experiences. One weekend they decided to paint some shelves at the shop. When it got late, they left the clutter to return early the next morning and finish up.

Unfortunately they left Ricky, their pet Capuchin monkey, and Timmy, another Capuchin who was boarding, in adjoining cages. During the night Timmy reached through his bars and unlatched Ricky's cage door, letting him free. Fortunately Ricky was too preoccupied with his own freedom to do the same for him. If he had, Vee said, they would have been out of business. As it was the shop was a disaster area.

Ricky wasn't content just to jump in paint and then leap from shelf to shelf. He also opened all the boxes of fish food and dumped them out, threw light bulbs on the floor and completely cleaned out two tanks of tropical fish... not the 29¢ variety, but exclusive little models costing $4.95.

Any lids he could remove, he did and what was left he chewed open. He even got into the black aquarium cement and dripped, squirted and tracked it all over. Nothing escaped his mischievous fingers.

The next morning when Vee and Ted arrived at the shop, he sat innocently on a cat post, a very sick monkey from eating things not fit for eating.

It took more than a week for them to completely clean up the damage and to this day, they still hold their breath when they unlock the door in the morning.

UNDER THE OAKS & AMONG THE CACTI

By Mildred Hattan

Announcing the arrival of their first grandchild are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Murphy of El Caminito. Their baby granddaughter, Pamela, arrived Apr. 28 in Salon, Ohio. She weighed 6 lbs. 3/4 oz. Proud parents are the Murphy's daughter, Diane, and husband, Tom Foley.

'HELLO, DOLLY'

The entire student body from Carmel Middle School has been humming selections from the Broadway musical "Hello, Dolly" since Henry Avila, director of the Music Department from Carmel High presented the high school band, choir, and glee club last Wednesday at a toe-tapping assembly.

HOLMAN RELATIVES

Mrs. C.E. Holman has some valuable new assistants at the Holman Guest Ranch with the arrival of her niece and family from South Windsor, Conn. Vivian hopes that she will be able to persuade Mr. and Mrs. H.J. Larrabbee to remain in the Valley for the summer months. Their daughters, Carol and Gail Henry are enrolled at Carmel High. Carol, senior, will graduate in June and plans to enroll at MPC. Gail is in her junior year. The last time that the family visited from Connecticutt was in 1956.

GRANDSON VISITS POWERS

Julie and John Power had an all-too-brief, but happy visit with their grandson, Fredrick Power who was on the Peninsula representing John Hopkins at a convention at Asilomar. Mr. Power makes his home in West Laurel, Md. House guests last weekend at the Power home on Country Club Way were Mr. and Mrs. George F. Hodgins of Burlingame.

TRIP TO RANCH

An "old oak leaf cluster" to Mr. and Mrs. Bob Wilson at Rancho Chupinos for once again inviting the kindergarten department of Tularcitos School to spend a memorable spring day with them and the animal inhabitants of their ranch (whose name, decided the mothers accompanying the youngsters on the trip, should really be changed to "Friendly Farm").

Rural though our area is, few of the Valley children have an opportunity to visit a working cattle ranch and experience the thrill of finding still warm new-laid eggs in a nest, milking a patient cow, riding a mare, sliding down haystacks and being introduced to the myriad of spring arrivals: turkeys, ducks, calves, lambs, and the adorable colt that timed its arrival a few days before the kindergarten visit. It is a field trip stamped "special" and tucked away by the children until another spring rolls around and they have an opportunity to share their experiences with that year's group of kindergarten students who have just returned from Rancho Chupinos.

Mothers accompanying the children and their teachers, Mrs. Barbara Wilson and Miss Sallie Witter were Mmes. Dale Buche, William Gibson, Erasimo Belleci, William Timothy Conden, George Jennings, Lloyd Swanson, Jeannette Williams, Gail Fraties, Janet Smith, Frank Vanderveen, and Walter Victorine.

VALLEYITES ATTEND SHOWS

Valleyites traveling the dog show circuit recently were Mrs. Nancy Hogans, and Mrs. Nancy Bletzer. The ladies attended the Sacramento Doberman Pinscer specialty show, were in Santa Anna for the All Breed Show, Yorba Linda, the California Sierra Specialty Show at Fontana and stopped enroute home to visit with friends in Santa Barbara.

MIDDLE SCHOOL DRAMA

The English class instructed by Mrs. Beatrice Picard at Carmel Middle School recently presented the original Dormakas production of "Would You Like to Die." Produced by Tom Dormody and Dame Kastros and directed by Tom Dormody, the play was given before the student body.

Members of the cast included Ben Viljoen as George Dinkleberger, Dawn Beckmeyer as Mrs. Angela Willibee, Dame Kastros as Mr. Tomas Field, Albert Hood as the butler, Philisia Wyatt, maid, Cobi Allen, cook, Tom Dormody, Tolan, Steve Foley, Mr. Funk, Eric Smith, man, Kevan Strathmeyer, reporter, Todd Gebhart, Harry, Kathy Ware, Jane, Kevan Roberts, teenager, and Nadine Wilson, lover.

In addition to chicken, potato salad, baked beans and beverages will complete the fare.

There will be a white elephant auction and games.

LEISURE TIMES

IF YOU CAN'T stand loud music and flashing lights, then don't see "The Happening" at MPC, (Photo by Dave Allen)

The Happening opens at MPC

"The Happening," described by director Morgan Stock as "a conglomeration of all sorts of things – skits, songs, dances, light shows – you name it," will be Monterey Peninsula College's last dramatic offering of the spring semester.

"The Happening" will happen May 23, 24 and 25 (Thursday, Friday, Saturday) and the following week on May 29, 30 and 31 and June 1), 8:30 each evening in the MPC Little Theater-on-Campus.

A number of the "leading campus actors and directors" are doing their farewell stints in "The Happening," according to Stock. Dave Allen, who will transfer in the fall to UCLA, has written several of the scripts and produced the light show, one of the high points of the evening. Rick Wolf, another "old hand," will be acting in several of the scripts, and Sam Mercurio will do his "famous strip tease number."

Wendy Grissim plays a radio figure from Del Rio, Texas, and the dancing chores will be handled by Andrea Fernandez, Cheryl Mitchum and Betty Waldrup.

Ronald Guillemette is assisting in directing and Bob Evans is lighting design director.

Fanciful 'Noah' is family fun at Circle

A fanciful embroidery of the stark old tale of Noah and his ark bemused a first night audience at the Circle Theatre Friday evening.

It is French playwright Andre Obey's idea that Noah was a sweet old dodderer with a chummy relationship with God. Another pretty fancy is that his sons, Ham, Shem and Jephet represent the three main faces of the earth: black, yellow and white. And in the end he has the handsome boys and their wives trudging off to three corners of the earth to populate it with contrasting colors.

Ramon Wilson is gently droll as the Ancient and misses none of the poetry of voice and gesture that the role calls for. Betty Fowlston is a delightful Mrs. Noah, patient with her husband and pleased with her sons.

The animals don't come two by two but, one at a time, they are very effective. They move well in their clever costumes and realistic masks.

A high point of the show, at least for the many children present, was the appearance of Wayne Kendall embodying all the evils of mankind that the Lord is determined to destroy in the deluge. In psychedelic body paint and a wild feather topknot, he cavorts and howls about in grand bravura style.

Seen last at the Circle as the nice boy in "Ah Wilderness" and at the Studio as a goody-gumdrops mounty in "Little Mary Sunshine," young Mr. Kendall seizes his chance to be wicked with exhilarating gusto.

Noah's sons and their wives were played with charm and grace by Bill Johnson as Ham, Gary Tao as Shem and Scott Wheeler, Jephet; Cora Nubin, Norma; Sharleen Sakae, Sella and Kris Loop as Ada.

Ham, the dissenter who pokes fun at Father Noah, is played with handsome force by Bill Johnson. But he would have pleased us more if he could have been gently chiding rather than aggressively peevish. His complaining voice was almost too harsh, we though, for the fragile quality of the play.

Father Noah's gentle animal friends were played by Bob Nixon, the bear; Ralph Forbes, the lion; Mike Marks, the lamb; David Loop, the monkey; Ruth Fry, the cow; Scott Conway, the tiger and Ted Forbes, the wolf. We wish they had removed their masks for their curtain call so that we might have seen their real faces.

This is a fun show for the family. It may even inspire you to look up the story of the flood in the book of Genesis.

Guest director for this production of the Golden Bough Players was Charles Thomas, who also worked on the set design and animal masks with his production assistant, Ruth Jordan Allan. Miss Allan was also responsible for the lighting effects.

Roy Baxter was stage manager, assisted by Betty Szold. Ken Ahern was in charge of background music. Adele Bramlet did the costumes, and Gloria Wheeler also had a hand in creating the masks.

Music Society will present Spanish dancers

Friday, May 24 is the date for Amparo and her Cuadro Espanol at Carmel's Sunset Auditorium when the lively young troupe of six will present an evening devoted to Spanish dance and music. This is the last, and "bonus" concert of the 41st series and will begin at 8:30 p.m.

Dancer Amparo, who has appeared in concert, television and films, was born in Europe and has, in this country, gathered together a touring group dedicated in interpreting Spanish folk art. Its members are young Californians, their lively interest stemming mostly from their own Spanish family backgrounds.

An exception is Marcia Kuster Rider who is widely known in the Carmel area and who lived here until recently. Marcia, who takes the name of Ana Gabriela in the group, studied with Amparo when the dancer once lived and taught here on the Monterey Peninsula.

The group will present a diverse program including traditional and popular folk numbers. It will include music by Gimenez, Soler and Albeniz.

Seats for the concert will be largely occupied by subscribers. Others interested in attending may check the box office prior to the performance; there will be no charge for extra seats as this is the bonus concert ending the Carmel Music Society's season.

Those wishing tickets for next season's series will inquire at the Friar Tuck Book Shop, Mission and 6th, Carmel (624-7500).

Final film at MPC Saturday

"Nothing But a Man," last film in Monterey Peninsula College's spring series, will be shown Saturday, May 25, at 7:30 p.m. in the MPC Music Hall.

CHAMELEON 1968

Carmel High poetry magazine — an artistic labor of love

Carmel High's annual poetry magazine CHAMELEON was a labor of love this year. It took the form of a handsome portfolio with the poems hand set on separate sheets of colored art paper and hand block-printed illustrations by members of the art department.

Each artist ran off 150 copies of his print; then the plates were destroyed. The poets and artists signed and numbered each copy by hand. Much work was done after class.

Advisers were English teacher Ethelyne Eikenberry and art teacher William Stone.

Student staff members were Tania Granoff, Brian Cronwall and Mark Thompson.

Chameleon poets not presented on these pages because of lack of space were Sam Hurst, Sheila Davison, Betsy Baer-McLeod, Marjorie Carter, Brian Cronwall and Debbie Gaskell. Other artists were Halie Sherman, Karen Hasen, W.F. Stone, Jr., and Jill Whitcomb.

First Award horse show to be May 30

Thursday, May 30, on Memorial Day, the first of four horse shows for junior horsemen will be held on the Trail and Saddle Club grounds on East Garzas Road.

These series were begun several years ago to further develop the skills of young riders and were called playdays. They are still days of fun but with a little more seriousness in mind.

At the end of the series, the Warmington trophy is awarded to the most improved rider with the Porter trophy being given to the rider with the most accumulated points for the year (including outside shows).

These all-day shows begin with a safety inspection and judged events in the morning and the fun or gymkhana-timed events after lunch. All young people 17 and under are welcome to enter.

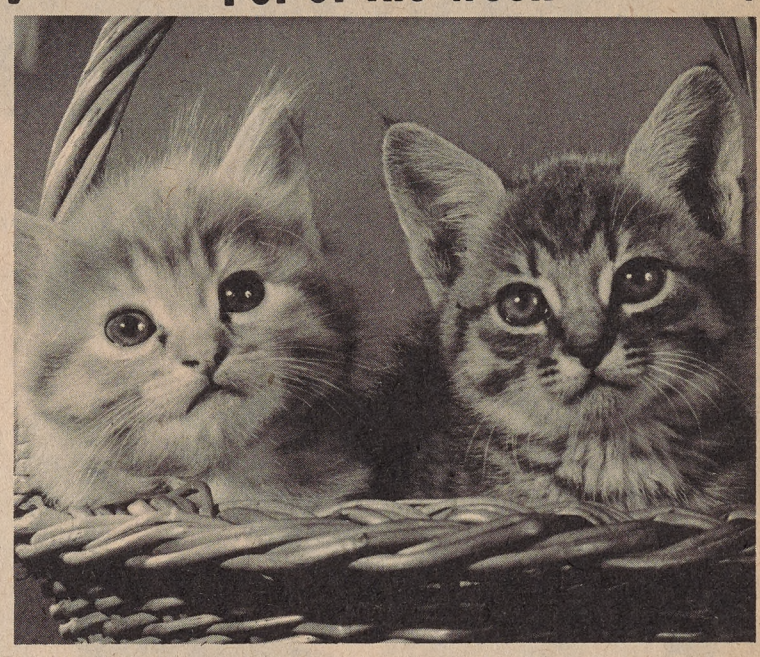
Entry fees are: $6.00 for the all-day for guests and $2.50 for members.

There will be three age groups: 9 years and under, 10 through 12, and 13 through 17.

The judge for this first show will be Riley Wilson from Laguna Seca Riding and Training Stables.

Ribbons will be given first through fifth place in each event with high point trophies given for the day in each age group for members and guests.

Pet of the week



PANSY FACES... Just two of the many adorable cats at the SPCA Shelter now that kitten season has arrived with the springtime. You may take your pick of colors, patterns, length of hair, size and sex. No house need be without a mouser or a sit-by-the-fire-and-look-pretty pet.

See them any day except Thursday and Sunday from 10 a.m. till 5 p.m. at 2099 David in New Monterey. (Photo by Virginia and Louis Kay)

New members for Community Theatre Board

The board of the Community Theatre of the Monterey Peninsula last week appointed Mrs. Harry Graham president to take the place of Wilfred Scholefield who is recovering from back surgery.

Two new board members were also announced: Betty Fowlston, now appearing as Mrs. Noah in the Circle Theatre's current production and a school teacher in private life, and Richard Brag, public relations of Monterey County Industrial Development.

Mr. Scholefield, who is vice principal of Pacific Grove High, will remain on the board. The board will employ guest directors through the summer for productions of the Circle Theatre.

Nick Zanides of Carmel Valley, who is drama teacher at Carmel High, will be in charge of the next production, "Enter Laughing." Tryouts for this play will begin this Thursday evening, Room 6, Sunset Center. Actors can also make an appointment to try out at their convenience by calling 624-2669.

Auditions Thurs. for Circle play

The Community Theatre of the Monterey Peninsula announces auditions for "Enter Laughing," the next play to be produced at the Circle Theatre in Carmel, under guest director, Nick Zanides. The readings will be held Thursday evening, May 23, at 7:30 in the theater office (624-2669), Room 6, at Sunset Center.

"Enter Laughing" is a farce comedy about the riotous sojourn of a stage-struck youth working as a delivery boy in a sewing machine factory. His parents want him to be a druggist, but the boy is determined to become an actor.

Male and female comic character roles are available, and the younger roles will be filled by young men and women between the ages of 16 and 20. Anyone is eligible to audition or help backstage.

Valleyites! Be prepared to be scavenged!

Don't be surprised to hear your doorbell ring on Saturday morning.

All of the OK's (Organized Kids) will lead a scavenger hunt between 9 and 12 on this coming Saturday. They will be looking for all types of craft materials. Paint, brushes, crepe paper, beads, buttons, yarn, felt material, egg cartons, bows, bleach bottles, glue, styrafoam and coffee cans are on the list.

Any donations will help assist them in creating items for the OK Country Fair to be held on June 15. This will be their one money making venture for the year.

The minds and hands of these young people (10 to 13) are willing to work and support would be greatly appreciated by the kids. People might even start poking through drawers, closets and corners of the garage to see if there are any goodies that might be utilized.

The OK activity schedule for June was agreed upon at the last board meeting. Blanca Zarazua was elected treasurer at the same meeting.

Artist jeweler joins Henri Corbat's shop

Gilbert Schoenbrod has joined Henri Corbat, Carmel's Swiss Jeweler whose shop is located on San Carlos near 5th Street, as custom designer, continuing the work for which he has been widely known under the hallmark of 'Gilbert Originals' since his establishment in Carmel in 1949.

This is the artist-craftsman's return to the creation of fine jewelry after a ten-year sabbatical during which he gave himself over completely to his other interest, painting. His art will be represented by art dealer Len Laky.

Valley girl gets Mexican scholarship

Lynn Engstrom, a senior international affairs and Spanish major at Lewis and Clark College, has been awarded a Mexican government scholarship for a year of study at the National University of Mexico. Lynn is the daughter of Mrs. George W. Engstrom, East Garzas Rd., Carmel Valley, and a 1964 graduate of Carmichael High School. She will receive her bachelor of arts degree at Commencement on June 7.

The award for $1000 plus tuition was arranged through the Institute of International Education, which also awards Fulbright scholarships for foreign study. Miss Engstrom will concentrate on a study of relations between Latin America and the United States in order to prepare for a career in U.S. foreign service in Latin America.

LYNN ENGSTROM

Miss Engstrom spent two terms in Mexico in 1964 and 1965 with the L-C Overseas Study program and in 1967 studied for another term at the University of the Americas in Mexico City.

At Lewis and Clark she has participated in debate and has worked as a "big sister" with international students. While in Mexico she studied folk dancing and guitar and plans to continue studying Mexican dance with a member of the Ballet Folklorica, in Mexico City.

Carmelo 4-H Club News

Happy New Year

May 28 will end the old year and start the new for the Carmelo 4-H Club. It has been an active year. 4-H wants to thank the many friends who have helped them... local buyers who bought our lambs at the fair, the Monterey Peninsula Kiwanis who loaned money for projects, Luis Wolter who for years has donated supplies for various functions, The Outlook, and the many others who have given discounts or help.

NEW PROJECTS

The club is looking forward to a great new year. There are several new leaders to expand interests. Mrs. Phil Cordrey will teach beginning clothing and boys' cooking, Mr. Cordrey will lead a wildlife project, Bob Wilson will help start a small engines project, Ray Wallace has offered to help with the tractor project, Mrs. John Martin will lead a guide dog project and Mrs. Sam Brandt has offered to assist her. Mrs. Gerald Petkus has also offered assistance in the home economics field.

Carmelo 4-H would like to have more leaders so that they can offer other projects such as horsemanship, entomology, forestry, climatology, ornamental horticulture, bee keeping, woodworking, and electricity. They could also use more leaders in foods and home furnishings. The ideal would be to have no more than 5 or 6 members per project with leaders in both the Upper and Lower Valley. You don't have to be an expert, you just have to have an interest in children.

Is anyone interested? If so call William Ingram at 624-4831 or Mrs. Jacoby at 624-2306 or come to the next meeting at Carmelo School May 28 at 7:30.

NEW MEMBERS

Anyone interested in joining the 4-H Club is urged to attend this meeting. The age requirement has been lowered to 9 years or entering the fourth grade. The Hi 4-H'ers would welcome anyone from 13 to 19 years of age.

Anyone wishing to join and show a sheep or hog at the Monterey County Fair in August should make arrangements to get their animals immediately as they must be owned at least 60 days before the fair.

Come help to make the best better!

WHAT'S DOING?

Mays, Hunt, Marichal—those are just a few of the names that I hear almost daily around our office. And it's no wonder, too, because we're one of the sponsors who are bringing you all the San Francisco Giants baseball games this year. So why not join us—be sure to have your radio tuned in to the Giants. Brought to you by Pacific Telephone.

Remember to vote in California's primary June 4.

Here's something that every parent should know. In an emergency, it's always quickest and best to dial direct to the police, fire department, or doctor. But for a youngster that might not be possible. So be sure your child knows how to dial "0" for help in an emergency. Our Operators are trained to do the rest.

One teacher to another: "Not only is he the worst behaved child in school, but he also has a perfect attendance record."

The Secretarial School, jointly sponsored by Pacific Telephone and The Young Adults for Action is tentatively scheduled to begin on May 28th.

The classes will be held in Seaside on Tuesday and Thursday evenings between 9 and 9 p.m.

All persons interested in attending are asked to call 394-8118 or 373-1988 for additional information.

Two rabid bats killed in Salinas

Two rabid bats were killed last week about five miles south of Salinas on River Road. Acting sick and moving about in daylight the bats were very apparently abnormal. A number of these flying animals were trying to enter a house when others were discovered lying on the ground as if they were sick or injured. Three were killed and submitted to the County Health Dept. for examination. Two proved to be positive cases of rabies.

"Representing the first animal rabies discovered in Monterey County in 1968 this incident points out the fact that rabies in wildlife may occur just about any time and in any area of the county," said Dr. Richard S. Fraser, county health officer.

The Health Dept. wishes to remind parents to teach their children not to feed semi-tame wild animals, and to avoid all animals which can be easily approached. Campers are urged to avoid sleeping on the ground. The use of cots is good protection from accidental exposure to rabid nocturnal animals, according to the Health Dept.

Dog owners are urged to be sure their pets are rabies vaccinated. Vaccination is required by state law in all dogs 4 months of age or older, and should be repeated every two years.

LL Tigers clobber Volunteers 24—1

By FRANK CRAIG

Tuesday, May 14, saw the Tigers and the Volunteers battling it out in a game which produced what was possibly the longest single inning in Little League history. Up to the fourth inning the eight Tiger tallies to the Volunteers' 1 was quite normal.

Then the Tiger exploded for a 16 run inning to win 24 to 1 in the 5th, when the game was concluded by mutual consent.

Saturday, May 18, the Volunteers recovered sufficiently to take the league-leading Red Sox 11 to 8. The nightcap of the double header had the Tiger leading the Giants until the 6th inning when the Giants scored four times to win 15 to 11.

In the morning's farm club game the Cubs, while out-hit by the Indians 5 to 8, came up with the winning score of 13 to 8.

Saturday was also a busy day at the snack bar which was gifted with a sparkling new coffeemaker, courtesy of the Village House. Mr. Kvenild, being an understanding man, has also provided enough fertilizer for the ball park to produce a verdant carpet for the outfield.

CHS baseball

Tough luck dogged the Carmel High baseball team Friday when league-leading Hollister won 3-1.

This was in spite of the fine pitching performance of a junior, Lee Mark, who gave up two unearned runs and was victimized by faulty defense.

Carmel's run came in the 5th inning when Mitch Kastros doubled to left center. He moved to 3rd on Malcolm Hall's drag-bunt single and scored on Packy Porter's sacrifice fly to center field.

Carmel was scheduled to play Holy Cross Tuesday and San Lorenzo Valley Friday, both home games.

Carmel varsity also dropped a game Tuesday to Pacific Grove 6-4, although the Padre JVs won by 6-4.

Varsity pitcher Benny Artellan couldn't overcome the handicap of four errors put in his path by teammates.

Mike Dress was the winning JV pitcher and hit a homer.
